SCROOGE COMEDY COMES TO PRESCOTT

Prescott, December 2, 2010:

The St. Lawrence Shakespeare Festival is getting into the Christmas spirit with its upcoming performances of Scrooge: A New Year's Carol.

A fun-filled show for all the family, this newly devised show features all of your favourite characters from Dickens, with a new, comic twist on the traditional story. It will provide a welcome evening of laughter as relief from the stresses of preparation for the Christmas season.

Scrooge: A New Year's Carol will be performed by Bain and Bernard, who were such hits at this summer's Festival, they have been gaining regular praise for their comedy shows in Toronto:

"Truly gifted comedians" Toronto Tourism News

"Who says vaudeville is dead? You've never seen anything like it!" Toronto Eye

Artistic Director Ian Farthing says of the show:

"Anyone who saw Bain and Bernard's take on Shakespeare this summer will know they're in for a real treat. Their zany antics are sure to put a smile on anyone's face and what better time to laugh than Christmas?"
